CONTROLLER (FUTURE CFO)
FULL TIME – APPLETON, WI

We're careful with our numbers.

Every inch counts when we design our equipment. The same care is given when we're managing our financials.

We engineer and manufacture equipment for the foam and mattress industry.

If you've ordered a mattress online lately, when it was shipped to your door compressed, folded and rolled into a box, it was likely our equipment making that possible. We were born in the paper industry and have applied this experience to foam – it's changing the game for us and our customers.

Day in the Life of an Accounting Controller

C3 is looking for a future CFO in the next 5-10 years. This position is perfect for a strategic team player that is looking for that next big step in their career. Our Controller will not only work in our Accounting department but will partner with department heads and help lead key initiatives throughout the year. This position will report directly to our CFO. They're responsible for all aspects of our financial management – corporate accounting, regulatory and financial reporting, budget and forecast preparation, and development and oversight of our policies and procedures. It's a dynamic role with a lot of variety, if you like a fast-paced and fun work environment with opportunity to grow then ...then this is for you!

Accounting Controllers are experts at:

- Leading initiatives and supports process improvement and growth
- Directs the preparation and presentation of the annual budget and periodic forecasts, including balance spreadsheet, income statement and cash flow.
